Meet the Author

Bill O'Reilly

Bill O'Reilly was born on September 10, 1949. As a child Bill attended a Catholic school.

Bill holds a degree in history and a master's degree in broadcast journalism. While attending Marist College he played semi-professional baseball. Before returning to school to earn a masters degree in Boston University he taught English and history in a high school in Miami.

Bill was married to Maureen McPhilly and had two children, a son and a daughter. Their marriage ended in 2011 after 15 years. Bill currently lives in Long Island.

Bill has been in broadcasting for 42 years. He has been a national correspondent for CBS News and ABC News as well as other high profile jobs. He is a three time Emmy Award winner as well as other reporting awards. For the last 20 years Bill worked for Fox News hosting the O'Reilly Factor. He was terminated from Fox this year. He currently has is own podcast, similar to the O'Reilly Factor, available by subscription from his website, www. billoreilly.com,

Bill also writes political nonfiction books with most on killings of famous, historical people. His first book, Killing Lincoln, was published in 2011. Four of the Killing series have hit number one on the Best Seller's list and several have been adapted for TV by National Geographic. He has also written young reader editions of some of the books in the Killing series.

The newest book in the Killing series is Killing England. The library has this book and many others in the series. The library also carries some of the books in the children's edition.

Bill is the writer for the Killing series and Matin Dugard is his researcher.

Tobias Room Construction

This winter the library will be doing some improvements in the Tobias Room. We will be changing the blinds on the top windows to blackout blinds and adding a large screen TV. Funding for this project is coming from a fund the Tobias family had set aside for upkeep of the room. We are sorry for the inconvenience this may cause during the construction. Once its done it will be a great improvement for the community.
